THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

The Austin Reville summarizes the Democratic platform as follows:

"The Democratic party in Convention, at Reno, in their platform and resolutions, which is too long for publication in full by the Reville, claims to be the party the most friendly to the poor; it is opposed to bribery, and is the relentless foe of oppression, and opposed to Chinese emigration. They declare for unlimited free coinage, but never made an effort to that end when they were in power. They charge that the Republican party is responsible for whatever evil exists in the State of Nevada; they claim that if they (the Democrats) were in power that they would have a lake of water stored away for every rancher and milling company in the State. They favor the Australian ballot system, and the calling of a Constitutional Convention. They are in favor of the election of United States Senators by the people, 'in order that the boodles may be distributed amongst the many in places of the few.' They accuse the Republican party of being guilty of every crime in the calendar and say that the Republicans plunged the country into a debt of over $300,000,000 by setting up carpet-bag governments in some of the Southern States and giving the negro the ballot. They claim that the Democratic Senators, with aid of a few western members, 'not Republicans,' but members, forced a free coinage measure through the Senate, and they claim that the Democrats would have forced it through the House had it not been for the President and Speaker Reed, and they finally wind up by accusing the Republican party of being the cause of all the ills that have befallen the State, 'excepting the one which they overlooked, and they should have charged that to some of the Republicans,' and that was in sending Cassidy to Congress. Altogether it is a platform of false accusations, charges and promises, which they will not only fail to prove on the stump and before an intelligence audience, but they will not try to prove it."

A STATELY FUNERAL.

The King went down to meet him—went down to meet a lowly subject whose dead face lightened not at his coming. The taking of Ericsson's dead body back to Sweden was a wonderful thing. Note the changes wrought out by the force of his intellect. A poor boy, the son of a minor, a subject of one of the weak powers of earth, working his way gradually upward through a long life of hard work and brilliant achievements, and dying at last held in love and honor by two nations.

But his home-coming was the most wonderful of all. He had gone away a lowly subject of a third-rate power seeking fame and fortune. He came back in state, borne by one of the proudest ships of the greatest nation on earth. When he left his native land that nation ranked with his own; when he came back, borne over the seas in a funeral ship, the flag that floated above his head met none that were prouder or floated in freer grace before the breeze.

"The Fall of a Star."

PARIS, September 16.—The New York World correspondent sends the following cablegram:

A private letter from Milan states that a book is about to be published simultaneously in Milan, Berlin, Paris, London and New York in the Italian, German, French and English languages, the title of which will be "The Fall of a Star."

It is a biographical account and history of Adelina Patti, De Caux and Nicollini. It has been written by the son of a well-known impresario with the assistance of a number of opera managers and artists. It is full of sensational details of the life of the celebrated diva, with anecdotes by well-known personages, to whom her most private life has been known in France, England, Russia and the United States. The story how Nicollini out of De Caux and finally married Patti is given in full.

It is evident that the Free Traders in Congress are trying to make a handle of the present construction in the money market to antagonize the tariff bill, by magnifying the amount of money which will be required to pay the duties on bonded goods. Their Wall street allies are helping them. They are talking about $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 being required within the next six weeks for that purpose. On the contrary, the amount due on goods now in bond is stated by Assistant Treasurer Roberts at only about $10,000,000. He should be accepted as better authority than vaporizing free-trade Congressmen. The withdrawal of these goods would also tend to check imports temporarily and lessen the flow of money into the Treasury.

The amendment to the Timber Culture bill, permitting farmers and miners to cut such timber as may be necessary for their industrial purposes, should become part of the law. In times past settlers and miners have been put to needless trouble and expense and the development of the country hindered by the literal application of a law designed to prevent the wholesale destruction of Government timber for commercial purposes.

The population of the State of Colorado, according to the count of the Census Bureau, is 410,973. This is a net increase during the decade of 216,543.

BLAINE DEFENDS THE WEST.

The Secretary of State on His Great Reciprocity Plan—The Benefits Will Accrue as the Years Go By—It Must Be Tried, He Thinks.

Boston, September 16.—In response to an invitation to the annual banquet of the Boot and Shoe Club of Boston, Colonel Clapp, the editor of the Boston Journal, has received a letter from Mr. Blaine, in which the Secretary of State referring to the portion of the invitation saying the members of the club are in hearty sympathy with his views regarding the best method of extending American trade, regrets that his engagements will not permit him to address the meeting.

The members of the club, he says, can do a great deal of good by counteracting certain phases of New England opinion, which he regards as hurtful to New England interests. Now England is to receive in the new tariff the simplest protection for every manufacturing industry within her borders, and it will be in the judgment of the Secretary of State both inexpedient and injurious for her representatives to disregard a measure which will promote Western interests. Mr. Blaine refers to a letter recently received from the President of the late Convention of Millers at Minneapolis, referring to the excessive duties on American flour in Cuba, and stating that Americans will be unable to retain any part of the Cuban flour trade unless immediate relief is secured.

THE CUBAN TRADE.

"In view of these facts," says Mr. Blaine, "it is possible that a Protectionist Congress can even think of opening our markets to Cuban products free, while allowing the great Western industry to be absolutely excluded from her markets by a prohibition tariff. With reciprocity the West can annually sell many hundred thousand barrels of flour in Cuba and Porto Rico, together with a large mass of other agricultural products. Without reciprocity she will be driven more and more from these markets."

"Giving the fullest protection to all Eastern interests as is proposed by the Tariff bill, surely no man of good judgment, certainly no Protectionist of wise forecast, wishes to expose a Western interest to serious injury, especially when it is manifestly easy to protect and promote it. Manifestly easy because at this very time the Boards of Trade, Chambers of Commerce and public opinion in Havana are demanding reciprocal trade with the United States."

Certain wise men asked: How can we sell farm products in South America when the same things are produced there? Cereals are undoubtedly grown in the southernmost portions of South America, but the wise men will remember that cereals and sugar do not grow in the same soil, and the sugar countries of South and Central America and the West Indies contain forty millions of people who import the largest part of their breadstuffs. Indeed, the largest portion of the sugar product in Latin-America is at our doors, and we can greatly enlarge our exchanges there if Congress will give us the opportunity for reciprocal trade.

WANT TIME TO STUDY.

"Another class observe that they want time to study the system. To this I might reply that the best method of studying the systems is to observe its practical workings. While studying in the abstract and refusing to take some object lessons, the gentlemen propose to open our market to Latin-American products free of all charge without asking Latin-America to give us in turn some freedom in their market."

"The object lesson immediately before us is the treatment of the sugar question. Shall we make Latin-America a gift of that trade? When we have studied that lesson we shall be prepared for the second. The worst proposition of all is put forth by those who say, 'Let us put sugar on the free list now and next year take up the subject of reciprocity.'"

"If I understand their logic is to make sugar free this year without condition and next year to ask Spain if she will not kindly consent to grant us reciprocal trade. Holding complete vantage ground themselves, the proposed policy transfers the vantage ground to Spain. Those who take this ground belong to that class of careful guardians of property who prepare a strong lock for the stable after the horse is gone."

"I do not mean in anything I have said to imply that reciprocity is only a Western interest. It will prove beneficial and profitable both to the farm and the sheep."

IT MUST BE TRIED.

"The many forms in which our business interests will be promoted by reciprocity cannot be known until the active commercial men of the United States have developed those forms by investigation and experience. We shall not realize the full benefit of the policy in a day or year; but shall we therefore throw away countless millions of trade in addition to the sixty millions we have already thrown away, and then ignorantly declare, without a trial, that the system won't work?"

"Finally, there is one fact that should have great weight, and especially with Protectionists. Every free trader in the Senate voted against reciprocity. Free trade papers throughout the country are showing hostility to it."

"It is evident that free trade Senators and free trade papers have specific reasons for their course. They know and feel that with the system of reciprocity established and growing, their policy of free trade receives a most serious blow. The Protectionist who opposes reciprocity in the form in which it is now presented knocks away one of the strongest supports of his system. 'The enactment of reciprocity is the safeguard of protection. The defeat of reciprocity is the opportunity of free trade.'"

WHAT YEAR IS THIS?

Scientists Trying to Determine in What Year Christ Was Born.

"A German professor says that calculations of the Christian era are wrong. He says that the above item going the rounds, with an added line, which 'meekly' informs the reader that we are off four or five years in our mode of reckoning time. For centuries there has been doubt as to the correctness of the accepted calculation of the Christian era. Learned historians cannot agree whether Christ was born in the year 747, 748 or 749, counting from the foundation of Rome."

Prof. Sattler, of Munich, has published an essay in which he tried to reconcile the testimony of the evangelists with other historical data on this point. He has examined four copper coins which were struck in the reign of Herod Antipas, one of the sons of Herod the Great, from which he deduces the conclusion that Christ was not born in 744, but in 749, after the foundation of Rome, and therefore that 1890 is 1895. This opinion the professor substantiates by what he takes to be corroborative testimony of the evangelists.

According to Matthew, Jesus was born toward the end of the reign of Herod the Great, and that when Herod died Jesus was yet a little child. Luke says that Jesus was born in the year in which the governor of Syria made the first census in Judea. In another place he says that John began to baptize in the fifteenth year of the reign of Tiberius Caesar, and in that year baptized Jesus, who was then 30 years of age. St. Luke says that in Judea the first census was made during the reign of Herod; this census must have been ordered in the year 740 of Rome.

Probably it was begun in Judea in 747. Professor Sattler thinks it was not made in Jerusalem earlier than 740. He finds that the four coins enabled him to make clear the testimony of the evangelists as to the fifteenth year of the Emperor Tiberius. Though Augustus died Aug. 19, 767, the reign of Tiberius must be counted from a year and a half earlier, from Feb. 760, when he was appointed co-regent; therefore the fifteenth year of Tiberius falls in 780, when John baptized Jesus, who was then about 30 years of age.

One of the evangelists says that Jesus began to preach thirty-six years after the building of the temple by Herod at Jerusalem. Now it is known that the temple was begun eighteen years after Herod was appointed regent by the Roman senate, or in the year 734 from the foundation of Rome. Adding forty-six to that year it gives 780 as the year in which Christ began to preach. If all these calculations of Professor Sattler are correct then the Christian era began five years earlier than is usually supposed.—St. Louis Republic.

The Ocean's "Under Tow."

Doubtless we have all heard a great deal about this "under tow" as though it were some mysterious force working from the recesses of an atheistic ocean to draw unwary bathers to their doom. As a matter of fact its presence is obviously natural, and the explanation of it more than simple. As each wave rolls in and breaks upon the beach, the volume of water which it carries does not remain there and sink into the sand, it flows back again, and as the succeeding waves break over it the receding one forms an undercurrent flowing outward of strength proportionate to the body of water contained in each breaker, and, again, proportionate in a great measure to the depth of the ditch.

Where this latter is an appreciable depression it can be readily seen that the water of receding waves will flow into it with similar effect to that of water going over a fall, and that a person standing near is very likely to be drawn over with it, and thus, if the ditch is deep enough, carried out of his depth. This is all there is to the much talked of "under tow" and the numerous accidents laid to its account.—Duffield Osborne in Scribner's.

Costs of Famous Frenchmen.

Robespierre and Marat are enigmatical characters. Their deeds were horrible, but the casts of their heads taken after death are of ineffable sweetness. In both the cerebral development is poor, particularly in the coronal region. The skulls, each of which goes up into a point, may have pressed there on the brains. Phenological development, or lack of development, taken with facial traits, betokens ill balanced minds. Marat's face, in David's portrait of him, is in all but complexion that of a red Indian. Robespierre's sister, on the other hand, is sweet, serene, pensive and of a lovely purity of expression.

Charlotte Corday, according to Danton, one of her portraitists, was a rather good looking young woman, more the peasant than the lady. She had a hard, quick, willful glance. Tallien was another ill balanced creature. He had the profile of an Egyptian dog god.—Contemporary Review.

Babbage.

Mr. Babbage "took me" one day, to see his calculating machine, and was mightily amused at my emphatic approval. I never could do my sums, and asked him to give it to me. He also showed me a wonderful automaton figure, made, if I recollect right, of silver. He called it his wife, and I was rather afraid of the thing as she moved her arms and head in a graceful but rather weird fashion. Mr. Babbage generally looked somewhat that I remember when my grandmother was telling me the story of Pygmalion. I exclaimed, "Why, it is just like Mr. Babbage, and his wife." My parents and he quite agreed on one subject—dislike of music—which my father always described as "a noise which prevents conversation."—Mrs. Ross in Murray's Magazine.

INSURANCE.

MANHATTAN

Insurance Company.

Assets, $12,000,000.

The history of the past has proved beyond a question that an endowment policy in a life insurance company is a much

BETTER INVESTMENT

Than a savings bank; FIRST, because it is very much safer—as the law of the State of New York requires every life insurance company to keep a Reserve in First-Class Securities

Equal to its liabilities, dollar for dollar; SECOND, in case of death while making these small deposits, the life insurance company will pay, just when most needed by the family, the Full Amount

Of the sum insured, amounting to 10, 20, or even 30 times as much as has been deposited; or on the Return Premium

Plan of the MANHATTAN, they would do even more than this, for they would at death pay the face of the policy and in addition all the deposits (premiums) paid, while the savings bank would only return the amounts actually deposited with interest.

Who would not purchase a valuable piece of property—a farm for example—worth $10,000, if he could have twenty years to pay for it, in small sums of $300 per annum with interest on deferred payments and without any tax on it? The $300 per year being only 3 per cent of the $10,000—a sum not much greater than that paid annually for taxes on property in hand, of the same cost, and especially if he could have the further conditions specially stated in the contract, that if he dies while making these payments—even after one only has been made—

No Further Payments Shall be Required

And the full title in fee simple to the entire farm shall at once be given to his family; and 2d, that if at any time after the three years during the twenty years he shall be unable to continue the payments and from sickness or any misfortune, that then he could discontinue any further payments and have in fee simple such portions of the farm as he has paid for; thus, if one-fourth of the payments had been made, he would own one separate fourth of the farm, etc., and at the same time the farm be entirely free from all claims of creditors, under all circumstances, not even to be reached by writ of execution or attachment issued by any court, while if living to the end of the twenty years and the annual payments have been made, the Entire Property in Fee Simple

Is secured.

Now the MANHATTAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY offers all this and more, for instead of offering LAND on these terms, which is often taken up by legal expenses and fees in case of the death of the purchaser, or swallowed up by a mortgage given to secure deferred payments, thus losing the whole amount paid in and leaving the family destitute, or dependent, it offers a Specific Bond Secured by Millions of First-Class Securities.

Agreeing to pay MONEY on the same terms and conditions as above—the cost per year varying at different ages, but otherwise substantially the same terms as above stated, while the sum to be paid at the end of twenty years will be increased by dividends and compounded interest for the full term, thus making the investment a very PROFITABLE and ADVANTAGEOUS one.

Inquiries concerning the bonds of this company will receive prompt reply if addressed to

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS

Adopted by the Republican State Convention held at Virginia City, Nevada, September 1, 1890:

The record of the Republican party is its best platform.

No political party in human history has taken such advanced positions for the equality of races, the needs of business, the maintenance of the honor of a State as to encourage the development of a continent, none has so elevated a nation and so contributed to the happiness of man, none has so honestly and economically carried on the routine duties of office.

In all things it has been the direct opposite of the Democratic party. Grand in its ambitions and impulses, firm and resolute in its consistency, strong in its devotion to principle, it is now, as it has been from birth, the representative of all that is noblest and best in its own country and hope and promise of a better future for the human race.

Its battles for human rights, its preservation of the Union, its abolition of slavery, its protection to labor, its elevation of manufactures, its upholding of the National credit, its efforts in behalf of honest financial methods, its honest system, and its devotion to popular education have made for it the greatest record of any political organization in this or any other country.

The names of its heroes are legion, and the deeds of Fremont, Lincoln, Grant and Garfield will shine like electric lights on the pages of history.

The Republicans of Nevada, in convention assembled, heartily endorse the acts of the Fifty-first Congress, which has made greater advances in correct and needed legislation than any since the war.

The crime of filibustering, so often resorted to by the Democratic party for the purpose of defeating legislation and blocking the wheels of government, has been done away with by the genius of Reed, McKinley and their associates, and the opponents taught that Congressmen are paid by the people for making good laws and not bad politics.

The crime of a strictly party race, placed the question that will lead naturally to free coinage and disarm all opposition among financiers.

It has taken up the work of a readjustment of POLITICAL.

the tariff in a patriotic and business like way, such as will protect the interests of the laborer and at the same time encourage capital to enterprises that will furnish it with employment at good wages.

New States which were denied their rights before being admitted to the Union, and the grip of Tumany Hall upon the Presidency broken.

Trusts that grew rank under Cleveland's Administration have been broken up and made to obey the law of honest commerce.

Efforts are being made to prevent or punish frauds and intimidations in elections.

A navy has been provided for and suitable pensions granted to prevent suffering among the sick and wounded heroes of the war.

Provision is being made for the reclamation of the arid regions, where the Republican policy of free homes and free schools has been followed.

Unsurpassed land grants are being restored to the public domain and the land thrown open to settlement, and in all things the pledges of the National platform are being amply redeemed.

We endorse the Administration of President Harrison and commend his conservative course as striking in contrast with his predecessor in office.

During the former Administration silver was undervalued, finances disarranged, strikes prevailed, the mail service was demoralized and business en-founded itself oppressed instead of being encouraged by the methods of the Government, whose whole business should be to benefit the country.

Today silver, without lead and all the products of labor are rapidly rising, and while the Democratic officials may perhaps be innocent of intentionally destroying our prosperity they are culpable for the
